lions gate lager

"vancouver's gateway to flavour"

Our lion's gate lager has a light body, a very crisp palate and a soft, hop finish, imparted by the exquisitely gentle Czech Saaz hop variety.

The lions would approve.

empress india pale ale

"a strong pale ale with scrumptious hop character"

This ale's golden amber colour only hints at its full-bodied flavour. Its sumptuous maltiness is tempered by a goodly amount of bitterness and a mouth-filling hop flavour. In order to finish our I.P.A. with a truly fresh hop bouquet, we dry hop this ale in the conditioning tank with both East Kent Goldings and Mount Hood hops.

signature pale ale

"eminently quaffable"

Plenty of British Crystal malt in the grist lends this ale its rich colour, its caramel maltiness, and adds the occasional whiff of toffee to the nose. An addition of American and German hops to the kettle at the end of the boil is used to suffuse our Pale Ale with a gently spicy hop finish.

nirvana nut brown ale

"a blissfully malty brown ale"

All can find solace in this ale's yin-yang of nutty maltiness, and delicate, dryish hoppiness. For our nut brown, an ale deep in auburn colour, we use a blend of Munich, caramel and chocolate malts to create a rich malty palate with a lingering dry chocolateness.

heroica oatmeal stout

"oatmeal - it's not just for breakfast anymore"

If you're no longer scared of the dark, then there's no reason to be afraid of our stout. A generous portion of rolled oats and lots of black roasted barley give this beer a warm, roasted nose, and a distinct dryness that succumbs to waves of lingering satisfaction.

coal porter

"like a song that's smooth as silk"

As you look out over Vancouver's Coal Harbour, relax with this creamy delight. Don't let the colour fool you - this porter is rich but not overpowering with a head that lingers all the way down the glass. Just about anything goes with our Coal Porter.
